Project Updates

Asset Map Resource

The community asset map is nearly complete! We shared the draft with our CHAC members and project team for feedback and suggestions. While we await their comments, we are also in the process of reviewing and verifying the listed community resources to ensure the information is accurate and up to date.

Interview Guide Development

The drafted interview guide was completed and sent out to the CHAC for their input. Comments, questions, and suggestions by August 5th are much appreciated!

Nutrition Content Development

After receiving feedback from a content expert, Bhagyashree is currently working on the final edits to the nutrition content! We will share her final products with everyone once we have them.

Monthly Recap

As July comes to a close, here's what we've been up to:

- Summer is always big report season for us, and we are relieved to have finished up our last report this month!
- Project leads Sophia and Suruthi have drafted a few materials for you to review, so please be sure to review those by Wednesday, August 5th.
- The team has been preparing to attend the IANT 49th Anand Bazaar event on Saturday, August 15th, and Sophia recently created a thorough Standard Operating Procedure guide to help our team operate more smoothly before, during, and after the event.
- We submitted an abstract to the American Annual Public Health Association Annual Conference and it was accepted for presentation!
- As a form of self-care, the team has taken time off this month to intentionally rest and recharge.

We hope everyone has a wonderful August!

Staying Safe This Summer

With the current Cyclosporiasis outbreak, a parasitic infection that can cause gastrointestinal illness, getting your daily fruit and vegetable intake can be difficult.

If you're wary of purchasing certain fresh produce items, consider substituting frozen or canned options. Both are typically preserved at peak ripeness and contrary to popular belief, do not lack significant nutrients compared to their fresh counterparts.

If you choose to purchase fresh produce, officials recommend that these ingredients be washed thoroughly (even pre-washed produce), with firm produce being scrubbed with a clean brush.
